WORK EXPERIENCE

SALES ASSISTANT @ H&M BRISBANE, AUSTRALIA
October 2018-Jan 2019

A "normal" sales assistant job, but in a different language from my native one. I still made it through the interviews and thousands of applicants!

STORE SUPERVISOR & SUPPORT @ CEX, ITALY
August 2017 - April 2018

New opening in Parma, 4th store for CeX (Webuy.com) in Italy.
Driven by my passion for electronics, I started in Parma's store as Sales Assistant and a few weeks later I became Store Supervisor.
In the last year (2018), the Trustpilot's score of our Country increased by almost 2 points, ranking Italy in second place among all CeX stores in the world.
I spent the last months working in all the four Italian shops, living in Bologna, in an international environment.
My main focus was using KPIs to improve stores sales.
This job helped me to get a strong management background in a retail environment while learning a lot about computers, smartphones and new technologies. My duties were:

- Maintain store staff by recruiting, selecting, orienting and training employees;
- Achieve high scores during the OPS Report (a monthly report made by Managers);
- Initiate changes to improve the business, e.g. revising Sunday opening hours to ensure the store can compete effectively in the local market, becoming the first store in Italy with different opening hours on Sundays;
- Improve Visual Merchandising;
- Build a genuine rapport with customers and increase sales and membership cards;
- Arrange the timetables for 29 employees.

I decided to enroll in the Diploma as a Data analyst because I am (obviously :)) passionate about data. This passion started with Brexit when Cambridge Analytica changed the course of Europe through data: I then volunteered in Nairobi, Kenya, and Cambridge Analytica used data again to alter people's opinions during the elections in 2017. I became so fascinated with Ethics and human psychology, but it wasn't until the pandemic that I started spending all my free time researching, and understanding bias, ethics, and how they impact everyday life. After high school, I decided to work and travel: I volunteered, lived abroad (almost four years in Australia), but in the last few years I decided I wanted to study and dedicate myself to developing technical skills in analyzing data, and now I can use SQL, Python, Tableau, Excel, and Data Science libraries in Python such as Pandas, SciKit-Learn, Numpy, Matplotlib to produce accurate reports and data visualization from raw data to solid information, accessible to everyone.

I think that's where the power of data lies: improving people's lives and creating something better for both society and businesses at the same time! I worked as a Store Manager in Retail and data was a powerful tool I still didn't completely understand, but I could use my intuition to make changes for my store and improve our numbers. I am a very versatile person, I like to adapt to different situations, and I found, in the role as a data analyst, the perfect fit for my personality! This gets me extremely excited about the many ways I can use my skills in different sectors. All those years of experience in management and retail taught me how to be professional and to be empathetic at the same time: I know I can be a valuable asset at work because I'm eager to learn more and absorb everything I can from experienced people!

DEPUTY STORE MANAGER @ KASANOVA, PARMA ITALY
March 2017 - August 2017

New opening for Kasanova, I worked as a deputy store manager, helping the whole team with the "technology" part of the store, teaching them how to use the dedicated software and troubleshooting any problem. I also created and managed the store's Facebook page, using a small budget to launch social media campaigns to attract customers.

SALES ASSISTANT/FRONT LINER @KIABI, PARMA ITALY
October 2016 - December 2016

Cashier, sales assistant and customer service full time for KIABI's store in Parma, Italy.

CUSTOMER SERVICE @IKEA, PARMA ITALY
October 2015 - August 2016

This was my first "real" job, I worked as a cashier for IKEA Parma. I was proud of the fact that I could make a high number of IKEA Family new membership cards, that experience made me realize how important is the customer experience in retail and was very useful in my later experiences as a Store supervisor.

VOLUNTEERING

VOLUNTEER @ NAIROBI, KENYA
January 2017 - February 2017

I spent two months living with an African family and teaching in a poor area in Nairobi, the capital of Kenya. I taught English, Maths and Geography. It was actually one of the most trying and moving experiences I've ever had yet, but it was all worth it.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEER, ITALY

I volunteered at the local Red Cross in Italy for a couple of years during my high school years.
